

Shrink parameters: change the strength of the signal required by the random factors. If shrink is very high the model will act as if it has no random factors, if you set these very low (e.g. 3) the model will overfit as it captures more noise. (default value = 50)